

Robert Salaman

Please, consider my application for any roles you may have related to Senior UX/ UI Designer.

I have vast experience in designing accessible interfaces. Most recently, I have been designing payment platforms and systems at Yapstone helping them to launch products such as pay by link and virtual terminal, whilst helping to support and bring the best out of other product designers with their various UX and UI projects. I've been working in a diverse environment often communicating with team members across many different countries and timezones - including Brazil, the USA, Ireland, Argentina, India and New Zealand.

Previously, I ran my own website design company which helped me learn to work in a fast-paced environment without having to compromise on quality. This experience helped me learn how to communicate effectively, understand what customers want and how to make overall experiences most beneficial for a user.

My strengths include user-centred design, prototyping and interaction, but my main drive comes from delivering high-quality accessible platforms that users can enjoy.

Thank you for your consideration,
Warm regards
Robert Salaman
